NIALS Journal of Intellectual Property (NJIP) (Nigeria): The NIALS Journal of Intellectual Property is the foremost journal on intellectual property in Nigeria. It was established in 2011 by the Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies first as a bi-annual journal but currently published annually. It was established to fill the gap in intellectual property law which was relatively underdeveloped and lacking in Nigerian focused intellectual property scholarship and literature. The journal accepts articles globally on intellectual property and related topics in law, policy and practice, and with relevance to the development of Nigeria’s intellectual property system.

Helen Chuma-Okoro is an Associate Research Professor at the Nigerian Institute of Advanced Legal Studies (NIALS) and the Deputy Director for Monitoring and Evaluation at the NIALS Postgraduate School. She has a PhD in Intellectual Property Law from the University of Cape Town, an LL.M from the University of Lagos and an LL.B from the University of Calabar. She is currently the Deputy Editor, NIALS Journal of Intellectual Property (NJIP); Country Lead, Creative Commons Nigerian Chapter.
